Advisory regarding rescheduling of special repatriation flights from Dublin (16.05.2020):

This is to inform that the two special repatriation flights from Dublin to India have been rescheduled, taking into account ground realities, load factor and operational reasons. The reassignment is given below:

1. 26 May 2020 AI 1198 Dublin-BENGALURU-KOCHI; Departure Dublin 17h30

2. 02 June 2020 AI 1200 Dublin-DELHI-MUMBAI; Departure Dublin 1200 Noon

The prioritised lists for Bengaluru, Kochi and Delhi sectors will remain the same. Passengers earlier scheduled to travel on Vijaywada sector will be endeavoured to be accommodated, as feasible, on the Bengaluru sector, subject to confirmation by State Governments, availability of seats, and their own convenience. Communications are being sent out for shortlisted candidates for the Mumbai sector.

The inconvenience that this may cause is sincerely regretted. The rescheduling has been done to help out the maximum number of people. Please appreciate that this is a massive GOI repatriation operation undertaken to bring back stranded Indian nationals with compelling reasons from across the globe, and there will be need for continuous re-adjustments, based on ground realities.

You are requested NOT to contact the Embassy for additional information than what has been shared with you. It is our effort, ourselves, to provide you with the most updated information as soon as it is received by us.

Thank you for your understanding and patience in these very challenging times.
